Dedication

We, the class of January, 1946, dedicate this "Torch" to the hope that the Peace will bring an end to the chaos and destruction of war; and that it will bring realization to the minds of the conquered that in Democracy, and in Democracy only, can freedom and equality be enjoyed.

LITERATURE

Memories . . .

By Anna Nitti

As the doors of our high school days are closing, there is a little sadness in our hearts. Our minds are wandering back to 1942 when the doors first opened.

The first voice which greeted us in the auditorium was that of Mr. Horwitz. Afterwards many other voices greeted us, such as those of the seniors. You could always count on us freshmen to go up the down stairway and to look for the elevator to get to our classes faster. We became acquainted with other voices, such as Mr. Fast's and Miss Kraemer's.

Then we started to study, doing our homework between radio programs and classes. Finally, June rolled around and we finished a semester at East Side. Some of us wondered how we did it, whether by bringing apples to school or knowing Mr. Fast.

We came back "educated freshies" (well not exactly educated, but we knew that the door marked "Principal" wasn't the principal elevator.) Then we caught on to some of the tricks; the idea was to pass. Another term passed and we were sophomores, though some called us "saps". We got acquainted with our advisers, Miss Messing and Mr. Cole.

Another summer rolled around and once more school was forgotten.

We came back in the fall ready for our 2A election. What a campaign that was in the electing of our officers! The results were:

President . . . . Ludwig Parlavecchio
Vice President . . . . Katherine Freda
Secretary . . . . Antoinette Gomez
Treasurer . . . . Angelina Iacovino

The terms exams came. Well, we made it, anyhow we passed with D's. We were really going places, we were juniors now and worth looking upon by the seniors.

We had our first dance. Boy, what a success it was! The girls danced and the boys decorated the walls.

The summer passed and once more the fall was here with the ringing of school bells.

We had our 3A elections which put the following up as our officers:

President . . . . Al Zmijewski
Vice President . . . . Dolores Moran
Secretary . . . . Edward Slawek
Treasurer . . . . Angelina Iacovino

Now at last came our first big event, "The Crystal Ball". Everyone was in a flurry trying to get things prepared for the big night. The punch the girls made up was simply wonderful. (As a mouth wash). The boys came with their best bibs and tuckers and the girls were just out of this world (and I mean out). At long last the boys noticed the girls.

Before you knew it we passed our junior year and we were—whee! Seniors! Huh, Huh, we were coming up for air; at last we made it.

The senior "B" officers were:

President	George Delli Sante
Vice President	Dolores Moran
Secretary	Edward Slawek
Treasurer	Angelina Iacovino

Remember the Senior "Rec"? Boy, did those senior A's wreck us! The girls looked so nice with their corsages of tearoses, and the boys,—well, with their flowers in their lapels they were really something. We celebrated from morn till night. After that came our "Stardust Promenade". Remember our cheese-cloth sky with the spangled stars and that beautiful arch-way we walked through? It was simply divine. The girls looked lovely with their gowns, and the boys in their tuxes were really going places. It was two weeks before things were back to normal and the girls and fellows got the stardust out of their eyes.

Another summer slipped by and it was the last vacation of our high school years.

We came back in the fall a little happy and a little sad, because it was our last term at "Dear Old East Side". Well, we were senior A's now, we could really give the freshmen a run-around.

The results of our Senior "A" election were as follows:

President	George Delli Sante
Vice President	Mildred Pacelli
Secretary	Edward Slawek
Treasurer	Angelina Iacovino

Now it was our turn to recognize the Senior "B" class. Everyone looked so nice and the boys' roses really could be seen this time. After the excitement was over and things were calm again we started working (?) on "The Torch".

Our wonderful days at East Side are ended now and those doors of memories and happy days are coming to a close. But still the doors of our hearts and minds will forever be open to those four wonderful years of high school life, and to Mr. Wilmot and the faculty.

Now we are looking ahead to our future vocations in a peaceful world.

"Mike" Goes To A Party

By INOCENCIO LINHARES

TODAY "Mike", your roving microphone, takes you to the tenth annual reunion of the East Side graduation class of January, 1946. As usual, this program is brought to you over station E.S.H.S. whose president, Frank Caruso, is a member of this class.

This reunion is being held in the banquet hall of the newly built East Side Hotel owned by the banker, Josephine Policastro. The banquet hall is decorated in red and white ribbons, the school colors. Special tables were designed for this reunion to form the two letters "E" and "S". At the center of the "E" will be seated the class advisers, Miss Messing and Mr. Cole.

The menu and preparation of the sumptuous meal were supervised by Candido Barreto, Mary Melnick, Jean Foreman and Ramona Guiliano.

The guests have not yet been seated and are talking in groups. The first group "Mike" will visit is standing near the main entrance. It is a group of medical people. Among them are Anne Nitti, Marie Yanalevich, Dorothy James and Miriam Schmitz, all nurses. Also included in the group are the famous pediatrician, Sue Calabrese, the psychiatrist, Irene Griscavage, the orthopedic surgeon, Evelyn Scheiber, and the surgeon, Michael Czwakiel. And last but not least, Joseph Rego, who has become known for his plastic surgery.

Seated around a chilled bottle of champagne is a group discussing aviation and mechanics. Considering the benefits of the new rocket ship are Carmen Maccrone, Walter Pipczynski, Antoinette Riccio, George Sinkez, and John Tortoriello. Discussing the living accommodations of the rocket are the aviatrix, Mary Chin, and the airline hostesses, Bertha Wilke and Doris Farparan.

More guests are beginning to arrive and "Mike" will try to introduce them as they enter. Representing society are the debutantes, Catherine Bertero, Savina Manzione, and Irene Vierra. Following immediately behind them are our famous detective trio, Robert Heide, Bettyanne Heims, and Philip Di Guglielmo.

The entertainment for tonight's reunion is going to be furnisher by Ludwig Parlavecchio, Anthony Giantomas, and Nick Spino, each of whom has brought his own orchestra. Helen Crippen, May Robinson, Dorothy Maschefsky, Julia Bengivenni, and Carmela Ramil, who are all singers featured with name bands, are also present. To give us a glimpse of classical music, Dolores Moran and Inocencio Linhares, Metropolitan Opera singers, are going to give us the final scene from Verdi's famous opera "Aida".

The concert pianist, Stephanie Fujarczuk, and the pianist featured with Louis Prima's band, Antoinette Gomez, have just entered together. Not to be forgotten are the outstanding radio comedians for this year, Joe Gutierrez and Mary Bodner.

The Academy Award winner, Stella Marzella, has just entered, escorted by her scenario writer, Richard Knapp. Coming to greet them are Hilda Gonsalvez and Walter Pendleton, who have become famous for their art work.

Angelina Triano, Katherine Hudak, and Carmen D'Alessandro, the Fifth Avenue beauticians, are explaining the intricacies of a new hairdo to the career girl, Marie Uzzolino, the fashion designer, Josephine Petrucelli, and the notorious gambler, who seems rather out of place in this group, Leon Buczek.

Everyone has grown quiet, for now entering the hall is the president of the United States, George Delli Sante, the United States Senator from New Jersey, Earl Crews, the United States Ambassador to Japan, Anthony Cucuzzella, the Speaker of the House, Lucille Gesumaria, and the Secret Service guard, Mildred Pacelli.

Off in a corner are a group of politicians and public officials. Talking about the possibilities in the coming national election are the Newark City Commissioner, Chester Haino, the politicians, Michael Vecchiarelli, and Mathew Parisi. The Powers models, Mary Di Nunzio and Rosalie Muller, are confronted with spending the evening with the playboys, Henry Groninger and Zenon Zakrzewski. With them also is the Powers model photographer, Ed Slawek.

Representing the journalistic profession are the newspaper editors, Elsie Trygg, Grace Anzellotti, Dorothy Domino, and Maxine Dizzino, who have all proved that women can fill men's jobs. With them are the movie critics, Manuella Conde, the press agent, Margaret Grehl, and the famous journalist, Lucy Baldi.

Delighted with the increase in the value of stocks in the stock market are the Wall Street financiers, Angelina Iacovino, Jenny Zeama, Angela Dante, John Consolo, Gert Bessey, Philip Dacunzio and John Giordano, whose methods have often been questioned.

This class also has a number of well-known sports figures and engineers. Among the former are the football coaches, Frank Salsano, Frank Sauchelli, and the professional football players, Gil Sadankas, Paul Cacicedo, and last but not least, that famous tackle, Al Zmijewski. Among the latter are Dietrich Dahl and Peter Miller.

The chemists, Rudolph Guzzi and Amando Freire, who collaborated in the discovery of a new element, are talking to the physicist, Anthony Carafola. Listening to the interesting discussion are a number of teachers. They are Frank Marusiak and Geraldine Caravillano, physical training teachers, Catherine Manco, Rose Martin, and the author of a new book, "Spanish For Beginners," Christine Perez.

United Motors salesman, Joseph Diaz, is trying to sell the company's latest car to two other successful saleswomen, Pearl Edelman and Lena Rocco, and to the dare devil rider, Henry Feret.

The outstanding woman lawyer, Katherine Freda, and a colleague, Fred Cupo, are giving legal advice to the Congress Librarian, Helen Dominick, and Sebastian La Vecchia, who is being sued for divorce by his seventh wife.

The members of the class are now seating themselves at the tables. The latest arrivals are just entering. Among them are the famous business women, Margaret Roccia, and her office staff, Pauline Pariso, Antoinette Attanasio, Rose Landolfi and Valeria Bienkowski, all secretaries. Carmella Tavella and Carmella Cuozzo, roller skaters, featured on Broadway, have entered with the dancer, Esther Iglio, the globe trotter, Mary Hrenko, and historian, Vera Kirianko.

After the dinner, a speech will be given by the clergyman, Ted Bijas. The subject of his speech will be the class activities during the past ten years. This promises to be a most interesting topic.

Newark has never seen such a large gathering of famous people, nor has East Side ever had a more illustrious class.

THE TORCH

by JAMES H. TUCKLEY

This is THE TORCH, a gleaming part
Of Space and Time, of Brain and Heart.
Its golden glow contains the lights
Of lands and races, wrongs and rights;
Italy's brilliant tangerine,
By Africa's deep purple seen;
Ireland's enduring emerald, done
From blue and yellow, sky and sun;
Mellow-toned rays from patterned dreams
Of patient China; vivid beams
From orient realms whose sun is set
And broken empires shining yet;
Dark Poland's dim nocturnal ray
That turns to violet by day;
American's composite light,
The sum of all the colors—white.
Such is THE TORCH, not just a glint
Of facts and faces, lines and print,
But rays derived from everywhere
United to form THE TORCH'S flare.

Hall of Fame

By GEORGE DELLI SANTI

THE happiest years of our life perhaps have been spent in the halls of our beloved and immortal Alma Mater. Long after we have left our school and taken our places in this troublesome world, we shall recall those happy days, free from care and full of fun and frolic.

After a few moments of pleasant memories, our minds snap back to reality and again we are confronted with our burdens of life. For this sole purpose we dedicate a portion of our torch to the honored athletes of our class. Long may they be remembered.

ALFRED ZMIJEWSKI

KNOW him? How could you miss him! He is probably the most colorful athlete our class has produced.

Gaze upon his sparkling background and see for yourself. His long and outstanding career began in '43 when he played end on our football team, competing with men far his senior. During the next few years he was changed to tackle, for which position he was placed on the "All-State" team in '44 and also in '45. But don't stop there since much more is yet to come. During the '45 season, he was captain of the football team and was spectacular on our baseball diamond. Last but not least, basketball is also on his lists of sports and he shows great ability in this field.

He will probably be a contender for our "most valuable athlete" award. After witnessing his performance in any one of the games, whether it be football, baseball, or basketball, you must realize that he deserves the honor.

CANDIDO BARRETO

DURING his early years in East Side Candido centered most of his interests on the saxaphone, but at the opening of the '45 football season, "Candy" succeeded in achieving the Varsity team. It usually takes from two to three years to reach the Varsity squad, but since Candido made it in one, it is obvious that he has real talent in that field. His position on the team was end, a spot requiring foresight and quickness, and which Candido ably filled.

FRANK SAUCHELLI

RANKING equally as high as Al Zmijewski in the field of sports is the "Red" Sauchelli we all know. "Red", a varsity man since his first season back in '43, has upheld his position, standing among the best football players East side has produced.

In '45, we found him sharing honors with "Zmi" as the co-captain of our victorious football team and doing a very good job at it, in addition to attaining a position on the "All-State" team of '45. Basketball has seen "Red" dashing across the court to keep our school's high gymnastic reputation flourishing among the best.

Whenever our memories of the good-old gridiron days sparkle in our minds, "Red', that "triple-threat", will always be seen streaking across the field like a human rocket toppling the opposing team.

"Red' has mastered the qualities of kicking, passing, and running. Whatever it was, he always gave a great performance.

PAUL CACICEDO

PAUL is one of the boys you probably knew little of until his athletic abilities were recognized by Coach Bogatko as well as Coach Liddy. His first call to fame was in '44 when he played on one of the many championship baseball teams that East Side has produced. During the same year, he showed his worth on the gridiron when our school was heralded as City Champs. One of the leading characteristics which furthered his skill was his persistence and so, whether he was defending the line on the football field, or was catching that ball in the left field, we always had confidence in the result.

JOE GUTIERREZ

"FLEETFOOTED JOE". This may sound like a queer name to you and you may wonder at its origin, but those who have followed East Side's athletic events know what is meant. Though Joe has majored in football, let's prowl into some of his more silent athletic participations. Back in '43 when East Side renewed its track team, Joe was one of the first to enroll as a member. After constant and persistent practice, Joe was rewarded; at one of the tournaments he won an award. Not only did he acquire fame for himself but also aided our school in getting off to a good start.

Joe has been playing center on the football team since '43 and though his first two years did not show promise his last year did. Now in '45 he is playing first string center for the varsity and doing a wonderful job of it.

WALTER PIPCZYNSKI

HERE'S to the unsung hero of the glorified backfield—Walter Pipczynski, who is better known to his friends as "Pip". He is one of the many whose football career began with the J.V.'s, where he first played quarterback but later shone in the position of guard. Finally, as the season was drawing to a close, he was switched to guard and retained this position a short while in '45 before being transferred to backfield. Since he is a blocking back, he does not share the honors of carrying the ball very often and hence is seldom recognized. But this does not alter the fact that he really had a hard and difficult task and played a good game.

GILBERT SADANKAS

HERE'S a true athlete if there ever was one! Gil, or "Gubie" as he is often called, has been connected with our school sports for three years. He began back in '43, as end, when he was often seen dashing across the gridiron, picking the pigskin out of the air. Following close behind came '44 and finally '45, witnessing Gil perform wonderfully as tackle, a hard and tedious position, by plunging and holding the line at any cost. As can be expected because of his extreme height, he accepted basketball as a co-sport, carving another niche in our "Hall of Fame".

FRANK SALZANO

FRANK, who is known to many as "Yorky", is a well-known figure both in school and in sports. To prove Frank's interest in football, Coach Liddy says, "Here's a boy that eats, drinks, and sleeps football."

"Yorky" was outstanding on the gridiron during the '44 season, especially at the Bridgeton game, and in '45, in position of halfback, again excelled in this sport. His unusual determination and perseverence have helped considerably when our team was in need of backing. Aside from football, he does equally as well on our basketball court, and regardless of his shortness, is worth his weight in gold as a player.

GEORGE SINKEZ

THIS is a boy who does everything well and while he is well-known for his cooperation in our class activities, we cannot let the fact slip by that he was an outstanding athlete as well.

When his years in East Side were already drawing to a close, he started from the bottom with the J.V.'s. His true worth was recognized in '45 when he was ranked as one of our best ends. He is also accredited as a successful basketball player. Whatever career he chooses, he is sure to succeed.

OUR CHEERING SQUAD

ALTHOUGH we have many colorful athletes in our class, let us not forget that none of our football games would have been as successful without our inspiring cheering squad. Their untiring efforts to spur our team on to victory will long be cherished in the hearts of East Siders.

ALMA MATER

In our bustling city's busom
Like a gem most rare
Shines the noblest of our treasures
Shines our high school fair.

Down the vista may we see thee
With advancing age
Never dimmed though farther distant
Youth's bright heritage.

Hail, all hail dear East Side High School
Green thy memories be
By the bond of happy hours
Are we bound to thee.
